Knowledge always purifies one's previous knowledge.*

Success should be judged by oneself, it is secondary whether others admire it or not.*

Clean mind always drives out the undesirable and unnecessary thoughts before they permanently settle in our memory.

A good mind is always eager to learn but stores away only the useful things inside.

The words used in a proper way are divine, otherwise devilish.

It is always better to take a clearly visible path leaving others aside.

Discipline should be formed as per needs of the school and students otherwise it will be an indigestible food.

Things once understood clearly can never be forgotten.

Knowledge is transferred through the mind, not through hands.

Knowledge is always pure and complete. It is our problem if we can't express it well.

Education is the only means by which people can live peacefully.

A person who has missed the opportunity of getting educated has missed everything in his life.

Punctuallity forms a system in us, by which we can utilize maximum amount of our time.

To realise one's mistakes is a sign of courage and compromising with them is foolishness.

Personal tuition is an addiction from which every child wants relief. He feels proud of himself if he achieves something on his own.

A watch reminds us of how much time we have already lost and how much more still to lose or utilize.

Greed of money is liked by some but greed for knowledge is liked by all.

Every school has got a character of its own which gets reflected in the character of its students.

A good school creates a continuous flow of knowledge, which never ends and never stops.

A student who does well in his studies gets respect first from himself, then from his friends and his school and finally from his parents.

School is the only place where people are judged by their knowledge, not by their money.

A teacher should not impose his/her own personality on the students but he/she should bring out the personality of each and every student in its original form.

Knowledge given to others gets multiplied.

Competitive tension among students is not good and it must be replaced by a bond of co-operation.

Teachers are like a stream which continuously carries the knowledge; students collect knowledge out of it and make it available to everyone.

A person who is self motivated is self disciplined.

*How sad are those who have not got educated,
how sad are those who have not utilized their education. How sad are those who use their knowledge in destroying humanity and how sad is the school, that has produced such students!*

Imaginative power Appearing in students is a clear sign that they are on the right path.

Leading comes first, learning next and wisdom is the final goal for all students

Children cannot love You on their own but when you start loving them, they too will love you.

A student's soul should always be hungry for knowledge through books, teachers or from others. Their search should never end.

A child joins the school in a state of complete darkness but when he comes out, he has the light of wisdom to remove others darkness.

One can not say that one student is better or the other is worse.

It is only the quality of nourishment that makes all the difference.

When a student learns something which is beyond his imagination it automatically leads to a great respect towards teachers and finally to the school.

Discipline should not be imposed instead it should come as an impulse and not as a rule.

A school is the dream of one, its birth an enterprise of a few to be used by thousands and benefited by a whole generation.

A school is a source to feed the Nation with its beautiful flowers which it produces all around the year.

O*besity and sloth are two great enemies of knowledge, which can be done away with regular sports activities in schools.*

B*y prescribing uniform for all students, a school pledges to treat every student on equal footing without any partiality.*

Discipline imposed through force is only a punishment given prior to ones mistake.*

Hunger for learning comes through interest and interest comes through proper way of teaching.*

Teaching is a path illuminated by teachers and followed by students.

Students are a working force of youth, talent and will, combined into one.

The students express the ambition of their parents, school, teachers and finally their own.

A word written by a precious pen has no value until and unless there is some precious meaning behind it.

The students are like seeds whose original nature, character and instinct can not be changed but it is always possible to get the best out of it.

To try is to get things done.

Every lesson has got a special message within and it should be very clearly understood by students otherwise it will be wastage of time.*

Education is like a candle once lighted will give light to all.*

A student failed in one class is like a rusted car which can be repaired and made new.

Education or teaching is not a light in itself but a means which guides us as to how to use our own inner light.

Education is the first thing parents think of after the birth of the child.*

That teacher is great who performs his duty for the benefit of students alone, not his own.*

*Teaching is a worship and in no way should it be influenced by money.
If such an interest creeps in it will spoil many a student for the profit of one.*

Ego is the peak of a mountain from which everyone comes down.

A student is always in the need of a sailor who can sail his boat through towards the ocean of knowledge.

Nobody can conquer the knowledge; one can take it only by bowing down.

The sun gives light to a school from all angles from morning to evening, so that there is no place left without light; a good teacher also does the same while teaching.

Your success is always judged by a successful person.

Hheart of children is like the flame of a candle which requires two Affectionate hands to hold and protect the light in between.*

Patience alone can conquer time.*

Prayers are beautiful songs of the heaven, which God listens to, because they are for him only.

A prayer in the morning is our wish Addressed to God and in the evening our thanks to him for what he has given to us.

At school, students learn to use only a small portion of their brain but still this has great value because through this they learn to use the rest of their brain.*

Politics in school is like rust in the body.*

The mind of a child is very sensitive. Knowledge should be poured into it very slowly otherwise it will become a devils mind in the long run.

Words are like flowers and it depends upon us how beautiful a garland we make out of it.

Prayers express the strong will of performing our duties in the most sincere way. A prayer done by an insincere person is only an expression of his greed.*

Conversation can be effective only when you speak what others want to listen.*

School bell is an alarm calling attention and alertness towards studies and it is a force which automatically drives students to put head into their work.*

A word spoken with full care and interest can never be tiring or boring.*

One should be active like water, dynamic like the sea and aggressive like a warrior.
